Invitation to Paris for the in-person meeting (confirmed) and remote participation in the live interactive hybrid session, from Monday, March 15 to Tuesday, March 30, 2021.

We are pleased to invite you, if you wish, to follow and participate in the Strategic Committees of the various Programs of the NGO Objectif Sciences International.

Your participation in these Strategic Committees will allow you to choose where you'd like to get involved within the NGO, either personally or in partnership with your organization.

If you would like to create and propose a new Participatory Science project, this will also allow you to see which existing Program would be the best fit for your proposed Scientific Trips.

To receive the access link and the physical address in Paris:
